Margaret Hogan Sweeney is the Managing Director of the Providence office of Hogan Law Associates LLC. Ms. Sweeney represents clients in administrative and regulatory matters, and advises on the legal implications of state government relations policy issues. She also represents clients before the National Association of Attorneys General on a variety of complex issues and initiatives.

Prior to joining Hogan Law Associates, Ms. Sweeney worked at MetLife Auto & Home as an in-house corporate and regulatory attorney where her responsibilities included representing this national insurer in all aspects of regulatory, corporate and compliance matters, negotiating contracts, managing litigation and reviewing advertising and corporate communications.

Before her time at MetLife Auto & Home, Ms. Sweeney was an associate at Morrison, Mahoney & Miller where she concentrated on medical malpractice defense, premises liability, and municipal liability. Prior to that, Ms. Sweeney was an associate at Hanson, Curran, Parks & Whitman where she also practiced insurance defense litigation.

Ms. Sweeney previously served as a Special Assistant Attorney General at the Rhode Island Department of Attorney General. She worked in the Civil Division of the Department focusing on civil litigation, advisory opinions, open meetings and access to public records matters, and drafting and testifying on proposed legislation.

Ms. Sweeney received her J.D. from Suffolk University Law School in 1991, and her B.S. from Providence College in 1986. Following her graduation from law school, Ms. Sweeney served as a Judicial Clerk to the Honorable Florence K. Murray of the Rhode Island Supreme Court. Margaret is licensed to practice law in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and the Federal District Court for the District of Rhode Island.

Ms. Sweeney is a resident of Franklin, MA where she lives with her husband and two children.
